PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

BOYS AND GIRLS OF INTERMEDIATE ANTICIPATE ARMISTICE DAY

An interesting and quite impressive ceremonial took place at an assembly at the Intermediate School Monday afternoon in observance of Armistice Day and the event it commemorates. It was somewhat in the form of a patriotic pageant. The stage curtains were drawn together when the assemblage entered the room, but as Miss Sharpe played the opening bars of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," Samuel Tupper advanced to the front of the stage bearing the colors and R. D. White, in army lieutenant's uniform, and John Hockett, in ensign's uniform, stood at attention. The boys and girls of the assembly then stood and sang the last verse of Columbia and after the concluding line of the chorus, "Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue," Miss Noble, vice-principal, led in the three cheers. After that the school united in singing "Star Spangled Banner" and gave the salute to the flag. Miss Noble demobilized the school service flag bearing five stars, Miss Midcalf pinning the chevron under each star as it was named, viz., R. D. White, Norman Whytock, Edwin Sadler, L. Swain and B. Van Aken.

A brief address was then made by Mr. White on the importance of Armistice Day and what it meant to the world. Mr. Hockett followed with a talk in which he told some of his experiences in the navy. In conclusion, he asked the children to pledge their loyalty to the flag declaring it was as greatly needed now as at any time during the war. In response the children recited the Roosevelt pledge to the flag.

The municipal service flag which had been made at the Intermediate and given into the custody of Miss Midcalf to add stars or place gold substitutes for the blue ones as occasion required, was then exhibited and explained by Miss Midcalf.

EIGHTH BURGLARY

HOME OF MRS. FRANCES SACKVILLE ENTERED DURING DAY TIME AND VALUABLES TAKEN

The eighth Glendale burglary at which earmarks were left which indicated that it was done by the same person or persons who had a hand in seven previous robberies, took place Monday at the home of Mrs. Frances Sackville, of 315 North Louise street. Mrs. Sackville, who went to Los Angeles that afternoon, has several ladies rooming with her, one of whom, Mrs. Elizabeth Day, returned to the house about 5:15 p. m. She found the front and side doors locked, but the back door open. Thinking that Mrs. Sackville was either inside or temporarily absent at the home of a neighbor, she was not at all alarmed, neither were Misses Genevieve and Anne Nintermann, who room there also and who are business college students, when they arrived a short time later and Mrs. Day explained that she had found the house open. It was not until after Mrs. Sackville had returned and dinner had been served that any loss was discovered. Then a hunt began for a violin and saxophone owned by Miss Nintermann which she declared had been left on the library table, the saxophone having been taken apart to clean it the night before. Neither instrument nor its case could be found. Investigation of bedroms was then made and Mrs. Day discovered she was minus a watch, a diamond ring, a cameo pin and a brooch set with pearls. Miss Anne Nintermann found she had lost a wrist watch. Trunks which were locked were untouched and Mrs. Sackville could discover no theft of silver nor other valuables belonging to herself. Neighbors could throw no light on the matter other than to remember seeing a lady sitting in an automobile in front of the house. When the police were summoned from the City Hall they announced that the door had not been unlocked, as Mrs. Day supposed, but had been pried open with a cold chisel in some mysterious manner without injuring the lock, just as had been done in previous burglaries. The entrance had been effected at some time during the afternoon while Mrs. Sackville was away.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Wednesday, continued cool weather; probable frost in exposed places.

LAST HONORS

COMRADES ATTEND WHILE TAPS ARE SOUNDED OVER BODY CAPT. JAS. B. HICKMAN

Funeral services which were held Monday morning over the body of James B. Hickman, at the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, were so largely attended that not all could be accommodated in the chapel. It was a beautiful morning with the sun shining and the birds singing, just as Captain Hickman would have wished it to be and the comrades with whom he had been associated at the local G. A. R. Post were in attendance to pay their last tributes of regard. Fifty members of the Woman's Relief Corps were present and sixty veterans of the Post from which were selected pall bearers as follows: R. D. Goss, W. R. Pratt, B. F. Patterson, T. M. Barrett, George W. Sanford, R. J. Spafford. Comrade Tom Gillette carried the colors and Comrade Robert Taylor was officer of the day and superintended arrangements at the grave, where the Boy Scout, Robert Searle, sounded taps.

Chaplain C. R. Norton had charge of the services in the chapel and at that service Mrs. Charles Peckham, president of the W. R. C., sang with fine expression, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," Mrs. C. L. Chandler furnishing the pipe organ accompaniment. While friends were having their last look upon the face of the dead, Charles L. Peckham rendered several beautiful organ numbers.

When the chapel services ended, the members of the N. P. Banks Post formed in double column to make an aisle and body guard for the casket preceded by the color bearer. At the grave Commander J. A. Thayer had charge of the service and Mrs. Peckham sang: "Lead Kindly Light." Floral tributes of the most beautiful roses, chrysanthemums, carnations and other rare garden treasures were simply wonderful in their abundance and loveliness, testifying to the great esteem in which Captain Hickman had been held by the community and the general sympathy with his family. Besides those present from Glendale there were friends from Hollywood, Van Nuys, Eagle Rock, El Monte, Burbank and other places in Southern California, one of the distinguished men present being Department Commander of the California-Nevada District, Russell Martin.

CHRISTENING PARTY

THREE GENERATIONS GATHER AT HOME OF FRANK MUHLEMAN

Sunday, November 9th, three generations and several families gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Muhleman, on Maple St., the occasion being the christening of two cousins, Margaret Hinton Wright, the charming little 16-months'-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Wright of Los Angeles, and Franklin Lewis Muhleman, the 12-months'-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Muhleman.

The baptismal ceremony was performed by Rev. Marion Smith, of the Central Avenue Methodist Church.

The Muhleman home was beautifully decorated with pink and white flowers and ferns and following the ceremony a supper was served and a social evening enjoyed. The refreshments included a little birthday cake bearing one candle in honor of the birthday of Baby Franklin Muhleman. The guest list included Rev. and Mrs. Marion Smith, Thos. Hinton, Mrs. S. J. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Muhleman, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Muhleman, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Chobe, Misses Marie Anschutz, Helen Muhleman, Clara Wright, Master Eugene Muhleman, Anna Louise, Barbara, Ruth and Baby Franklin Muhleman.

THANKSGIVING IN NEW HOME

Gerald Conrad, who is in the U. S. Navy and who has been spending a ten-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Jesse Joseph, left Saturday for San Pedro. He has been transferred from Atlantic waters to this coast. He will have another furlough at Thanksgiving time when Mrs. Joseph expects to have all her sons with her for the first time in five years. This means that Fred A. Conrad and Leroy Conrad, who have been discharged from service, will be here with their wives. Fred Conrad is living in Long Beach, Leroy in Los Angeles. The Thanksgiving dinner will be served in the new house Mrs. Joseph is building on North Orange street in spite of the fact that the house is not yet completed.

AMERICANISM TRIUMPHS

MINE WORKERS' STRIKE ORDER CALLED OFF AFTER EIGHTEEN HOURS OF DISCUSSION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 11.—The coal strike was officially declared off today. After eighteen hours of almost continuous session acting president Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America came from the conference room and announced in a trembling voice:

"We will comply with the mandates of the court. We do this under protest. We are Americans; we cannot fight the government."

Soon thereafter the meeting broke up, many of the union leaders leaving the city immediately. At ten o'clock this morning attorneys for the miners presented to Federal Judge Anderson a copy of the order ending the strike. Judge Anderson read it and declared he believed it had been issued in good faith and so officially approved the order. It was then rushed to all local headquarters of the Mine Workers' Union. The order did not set a time for returning to work, merely saying: "The strike order is withdrawn and cancelled."

Throughout the conference of the union leaders which ended with the order to stop the strike, the greatest secrecy was maintained but the sounds from the conference room showed that the debate was heated. It is understood that much of the discussion hinged on the subject of Americanism, some leaders favoring defiance of the courts. No vote was taken. After a thorough discussion acting president Lewis merely declared it was the sentiment of the meeting that the order be withdrawn and he acted accordingly.

PRINCE OF WALES ARRIVES

IS GREETED IN WASHINGTON BY VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL AND OTHER GOVERNMENT DIGNITARIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Prince of Wales arrived in Washington shortly after noon today during a pouring rain. He was greeted by Vice President Marshall, General Pershing, General March, Admiral Grayson, Secretary Baker, and Secretary Daniels.

AMERICAN LEGION CONVENTION

NEXT ONE TO BE HELD IN CLEVELAND, OHIO, THOUGH SAN FRANCISCO BIDS FOR IT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 11.—In a short contest between San Francisco and Cleveland for the next convention of the American Legion, Cleveland today was declared to be the winner.

Twenty-five hundred delegates to the convention now in session paraded this morning in honor of Armistice Day.

AMERICAN INTERESTS IN MEXICO

SENATE ASKS STATE DEPARTMENT WHAT PROTECTIVE MEASURES HAVE BEEN TAKEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Senate adopted a resolution today asking the State Department what had been done for the protection of American interests in Mexico and what response had been made by the Mexican government.

GOVERNMENT TO SUMMON CONFERENCE

WILL ASK MINERS AND MINE OWNERS TO MEET AND NEGOTIATE NEW WAGE SCALE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Following a cabinet meeting today, Secretary of Labor Wilson announced that the government will ask the coal miners and the miners owners to meet immediately to adjust their differences and negotiate a wage scale. It is expected the president will send a telegram requesting the meeting.

Officials today expressed curiosity as to whether the mine workers would obey an order to return to work. It is known that many radicals are working in the coal fields and fear was openly expressed that they would keep at least some miners from obeying the order. Government agents were instructed to watch for such activities. Officials declared that failure to heed the order to return to work might have serious consequences.

RADICALISM AT STATE UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, Nov. 11.—James Wales, the Berkeley editor whose charges of Bolshevism in the University of California Assemblyman Allen of Ontario wants investigated, declared today:

"A thorough fine-tooth combing of the faculty of the University will be necessary to expose the Bolshevism that undoubtedly exists."

In an interview Wales cites as examples of alleged radicalism at the University the action of A. F. Anderson, W. F. Lyman, and Witter Byner of the English Department of the University who, Wales said, petitioned the government to release conscientious objectors. He said he understood that the university Social Science Club "is composed almost wholly of radically inclined faculty members and students."

WATER BOND MEETING

PROMINENT SPEAKERS URGE CITIZENS TO VOTE FOR NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS

There was a public meeting held in the Glendale High School auditorium Monday evening to consider the coming bond election.

Attorney Frank Snyder was named as chairman of the meeting. Mr. Snyder, after making a few introductory remarks in which he set forth that the object of the meeting was for the successful carrying of the bond election on November 12th, introduced Col. Tom Thornton, who devoted half an hour to giving reasons why Glendale should improve and extend its present water system.

Col. Thornton was peculiarly well adapted to handle this question, as he is one of the oldest settlers in this section of the valley. As he stated, he was a resident of Glendale before the city's incorporation and he could well remember the time when the water pipes were above ground instead of under the ground and the water system in Glendale was a very crude affair. He said as the city had grown in population, improvements had been made from time to time and now it is necessary to make additional improvements in order to keep pace with the growth of the city.

Col. Thornton said he would not place himself on record as to whether it was the wisest plan several years ago to purchase the water system and yet he would not condemn the men who were instrumental in making the purchase. He said one thing is certain that since we now own the water system, it is up to us to improve it and make it worth all possible to us. He reminded his hearers that if this bond election does not carry, it will be necessary as soon as the law will permit us to do so, to call another election and if that second election fails to carry, it will again be necessary to call a third election, because the people must have water.

Col. Thornton stated that he had heard many rumors as to why the water bond issue should not receive support at the coming election and one was that as long as the nine o'clock curfew continued to blow in the evening, certain citizens would not support any project for the betterment of Glendale, and he said that seemed to be about as reasonable an excuse as anyone had presented for not supporting the bond issue on Wednesday.

Col. Thornton, who is a gentleman of wide experience and an able attorney, assured those present that they need have no fear as to the

EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY

RELATIVES OF MISS L. V. LEARNED ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF HER NATAL DAY

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams of 1255 South Maryland avenue delightfully surprised their aunt, Miss L. V. Learned, who resides with them, on her eightieth birthday. Miss Learned had been the guest for a few days of her sister, Mrs. George Adams, of 350 West Ivy street. When she returned to her home on Monday at 1255 South Maryland, she found there all her relatives waiting to receive her and tables spread for a big turkey dinner with all the accessories that usually accompany that noble bird when he fulfills his chief mission in life. It was a complete surprise to the honoree, but she was equal to the occasion. The Adams home and the table were beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves and covers were laid for nineteen, the guest list including six brothers and sisters, nine nephews and nieces, and four great nephews and nieces. Three were from Los Angeles, the remainder from Glendale.

After the dessert had been served the hostess, Mrs. E. L. Adams, brought in a beautiful large birthday cake decorated with goldenrod. The cake bore the words "Birthday Greeting" and eighty candles illuminated it. Those present united in declaring it the most beautiful cake of its kind they had ever seen. Miss Learned responded to the loving felicitations of her family in an appropriate little speech highly creditable to a woman of her years. The full list of those who enjoyed Mrs. Adams' hospitality was: Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Learned, W. D. Learned, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Learned, Miss Ethel and Miss Edith Learned, W. F. Learned, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Learned, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Laubach, Harold Laubach, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams, Miss Marian Adams and the guest of honor, Miss L. V. Learned.

FLOOD CONTROL WORK

VERY SATISFACTORY PROGRESS BEING MADE IN THE BUILDING OF BRUSH BARRIERS

Glendale men who are in close touch with the flood control work now going on in the wash north of the city give very encouraging reports of progress. While it was necessary at first to scatter forces in order to cover the different phases of the work it is now posible to concentrate on filling in the brush behind the wire barriers. A great deal of brush is already cut, in fact all they have been given permission to cut. As soon as other tracts can be secured the cutting will be resumed and the prospect is that very soon a fine showing will be made.

A new pile driving machine came in Saturday and will be at work very soon. That is the third small driver and two larger ones are also at work on the job.

INCREASED SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Teachers report quite a change in attendance at the Intermediate School. A good many families have moved away, others have come in to take their places. The attendance list taken the latter part of last week showed an enrollment of 313 as compared with 297 the first week of school. Superintendent White is inclined to think there has been an increase all along the line as the total reports of the schools will show when brought together. By this he means that more children have come to Glendale than have left it.

TEN YEARS OF SERVICE

Rev. R. W. Mottern completed ten years of ministerial service in California divided between Riverside and Glendale. As a mark of appreciation and souvenir of the occasion at the close of the morning service the president of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Church presented him with a life membership in the General Missionary Society of the United Lutherans of America. As it was wholly unexpected, the dominie was quite overcome.

FAVOR THE BONDS

Mrs. Stockbridge and L. T. Rowley on Monday canvassed the district west of Central between Myrtle and Elk avenue on behalf of the water bonds. In the course of their visits they found two persons uncertain and one opposed to the bond issue. Nearly all the others seen were enthusiastically in favor of the bonds. Some asked questions which they were able to answer satisfactorily and there were some new comers who expressed great regret because they were not registered voters.

SCHOOL LUNCHES

MEMBERS OF INTERMEDIATE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION DISCUSS CAFETERIA

The regular monthly meeting of the Intermediate P.-T. A. was held Monday afternoon at the school with the president, Mrs. George Whitaker, in the chair.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones was to have been the speaker of the afternoon, but was indisposed and unable to be present.

There was a general and most interesting discussion of the advisability of establishing a cafeteria lunch at the Intermediate. Misses Midcalf, Sharp, Duncan, Noble and Mr. White expressed themselves enthusiastically in its favor. Miss Midcalf declared that the teachers were one hundred per cent in favor of it. She said she thought at least fifty per cent of the children would patronize it. Cost and variety were discussed and it was the concensus of opinion that the children should be encouraged to bring sandwiches and buy one hot dish which would reduce the money expenditure. On motion of Mrs. Barton Mrs. Thompson was made chairman of a committee composed of one mother from each room to investigate the cafeteria question with the understanding that teachers should announce the proposition to pupils and ask them to discuss it with parents and report to the school.

Miss Midcalf announced the entertainment course being given under the auspices of the Teachers' Club and Mrs. Chase announced the Armistice Day program for Service Men.

Two piano numbers were charmingly played by Ruth Morton, a pupil of the school, viz., "Romance," by Julian Pascal, and "Praeludium" by Edward McDowell.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1919

ARMISTICE DAY

All California today is celebrating Armistice day—the first anniversary of the termination of the greatest war in history. As a fitting observance of that epochal event for world democracy all communities of the Golden State are joining in a monster welcome home for her 132,818 returned fighters.

Parades, dinners, dances and fireworks displays are included in the day's programs.

By proclamation of Governor Stephens it is a legal holiday in the state. A personal message of greeting from the governor to returned service men is to be read in each community celebration.

Celebrants will pause in their rejoicing to pay tribute to the memory of 3,600 of California's sons who made the supreme sacrifice.

Counties where welcomes previously were given, at their own request are participating in the state-wide event.

As a climax to celebrations in certain communities the skies will glow with bursting star shells, soaring rockets and other fireworks to represent the display that broke forth above the trenches in France when the Germans acknowledged defeat. San Francisco and Oakland are among these, the latter's display to be staged on the banks of Lake Merritt.

People of various communities were to gather at 11 o'clock in the morning and under the direction of song leaders of the War Camp Community service express in song their thanks for the end of the war and their appreciation of the men in the service. Appropriate songs have been selected and recommended by the singing division of the camp service.

A parade of service men in the county will mark the day at Fresno.

Golden scrolls, prepared as a testimonial from the state for those who gave their lives, are to be presented to relatives of the honor men.

The Hollywood Citizen tells of a colored boy there who stole a check for the trifling sum of $875 and then seemed surprised when the cashier of one of the banks there hesitated when he presented the check for payment. He is now on his way to a ten years' rest to cogitate over the uncertainties of banking and the suspicious natures of cashiers.

A Redondo lady is still lamenting over a terrible mistake she made on October 26th, when she turned her clock forward one hour instead of backward and got to church an hour and a half early, instead of half an hour late, as she usually does.

The Strike IS OVER

and our service which was seriously handicapped by the walk-out of the tailors will soon be normal again, and we will be turning out work as usual.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Miss Dorothy Poppy and Miss Bertha A. Hanson are today entertaining at a mid-day dinner, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McConnell, of Los Angeles. A pink-and-white color scheme carried out with Cecil Bruner roses will feature the floral decorations of the table and a social and musical afternoon will follow the dinner.

ELKS HOLD BRIEF SESSION

The Glendale Elks' Lodge held a very brief session Monday night as there was but little business of importance brought up for consideration. Three applications for membership were tendered, however. At the next meeting, November 17th, there will be a class of about twenty initiates and the initiation work will be put on by officers of the San Bernardino Lodge.

Over at the village of Foremost, wherever that is, they have hired a professional rain-maker from Los Angeles to bring them some needed showers at one thousand plunks per shower. Some of the Foremost citizens will probably fall for him, whether any rain does or not.

That 32-foot giant whose remains have been found in Mexico got away just in time, says the Long Beach Telegram. Think what the present cost of food would have meant to a mortal whose alimentary canal was 180 feet long.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKelvey spent the week-end with friends at Pomona.

The Milford Street Card Club was entertained Friday by Mrs. W. R. Heustis of 378 Myrtle street.

On account of the Armistice Day holiday, the meeting of grammar school principals usually held Tuesday, was postponed.

Mrs. George Whitaker reports that Glendale Union High has an enrollment of 250 to its credit in the Red Cross Drive which ends Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kimball and son have returned from Hermosa Beach, where they spent six weeks. They had a delightful time, but are nevertheless glad to get home again.

Mrs. J. S. Ripley of Los Feliz Road delightfully entertained the Kensington Club last Thursday afternoon, serving a delicious supper at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph Meeker last week entertained an old school friend, Mrs. Maud Murray, from Mill Valley. She and Mr. Meeker also were pleasantly surprised by Dr. and Mrs. Grover Hassner, of San Francisco, who have come to Los Angeles with the intention of locating here.

H. P. Sessler and family of 342 Maple street will leave this week for Los Angeles. Their children, Jack and Lucile, who have been attending Intermediate, and Edmond, who has been a student in Glendale High, will be much missed by their schoolmates.

The block west of Brand on Elk appears to be a popular residence district—at least very popular to new comers. The house belonging to Mrs. Jones has recently been sold to Mrs. Perkins, and the C. W. McFadden and F. L. Weisenheimer houses have likewise been sold.

Earl S. Patterson of 363 Riverdale Drive left last Friday on a hunting trip to Elizabeth Lake and will probably be gone for several days longer. Mrs. Minnie Patterson and her two daughters spent a very pleasant week-end at Hermosa Beach, which is very lovely now, she says.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McCoy of 1127 East Wilson avenue report that their son John, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Ramona Hospital in San Bernardino, is doing nicely and hopes to soon be able to return to his work there for the Standard Oil Company, by whom he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtright Hite of Lancaster, California, who have just returned from a three-months' tour of the east, are now guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith, of Maryland avenue. As their Lancaster home is leased they are considering spending the winter in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lynch of 314 South Brand boulevard entertained with an informal dinner party on Sunday, covers being laid for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lynch, Miss Wood, sister of Mrs. Ed Lynch, the host and hostess and their little daughter, Genevieve. Following the dinner an informal social afternoon was spent.

Firemen from Station No. 1 made a quick run this forenoon to Broadway and Glendale Ave., with the chemical engine, in response to a call from the Glendale Pharmacy to come and extinguish a burning motorcycle. When they arrived the flames had been smothered with wet sacks but not before some damage had been sustained by the vehicle which was the property of a boy rider whose name can not be learned at this writing.

reports given out that the wells in the Los Angeles river territory would be disturbed by the City of Los Angeles. He stated he is familiar with the whole history of the water rights in this section of California and that while the City of Los Angeles had been granted rights many years ago to the waters of the San Fernando Valley, the rights were not such as would interfere, under the present conditions, with the rights of the people of Glendale.

Col. Thornton, at the close of his remarks, invited anyone present to ask questions for information as to the need of improvements in the present water system. As there were no questions asked, it was assumed by the speaker that all conditions were satisfactorily understood.

Attorney Owen Emery was the next speaker and he, like Col. Thornton, could not see how Glendale could get along without improvements being made in the water system.

He said his two years' absence in war activities, a part of which time was overseas, caused him, on his return to Glendale, to think more of his home community than he ever had thought of it before, and that it was from time to time his determined resolution when away from here that upon his return he would do all within his power to work for the advancement of the city in which he resided. He declared to his hearers that if this bond election does not carry, he will assist in bringing about another election with the hopes that it may carry and if it fails, he will still urge a third and continue aiding and conducting elections until one does carry, because we must have water.

He reminded those present that all factional feeling should be dropped from this question and that our minds should be centered entirely upon the importance of carrying the bond election on the 12th and that any personal feeling we may have against any member of the Board of Trustees should not figure in this whatever. The improvement is too much needed to allow any petty personal prejudice to interfere with what is for the betterment of the city.

Mr. Emery showed such loyalty to his home community in the course of his remarks, that he gained a great and merited applause from the audience.

James Neill, who is considered the flowery orator of the Valley, was the next speaker and early in his remarks declared that if we are not allowed to drink anything but water, we must have good water and in connection with this statement he said that there is plenty of good water in the hills about Glendale to drown all the prohibitionists in the United States. But the question now is to get ways and means of conducting this water to the homes of the people.

Mr. Neill spoke at length upon the beauty of Glendale and the necessity of advertising to the world that Glendale is a city of pure, wholesome water. He, like the speakers preceding him, stated that it would be a saving of expense to vote the bonds on the 12th instead of holding elections later to decide a question that would be better decided at the present time.

Bert P. Woodward, attorney-at-law, was the last speaker who gave very good reasons why the bonds should be voted at Wednesday's election.

Mr. Woodward said he considered the main object of holding a meeting of this character was to have the people get enthused so that each one present would go out from the meeting and urge upon his friends to vote on Wednesday. He said he was slow to believe that when the citizens of Glendale got thoroughly awake to the needs of their community, they would be indifferent and stay away from the polls. He said what is needed is to remind them that they must cast their votes at the coming election.

Mr. Woodward, in his brief remarks, put himself on record as being entirely in harmony with the progress of Glendale in all particulars and he agreed with all the previous speakers that if the election does not carry on Wednesday, it will mean that another election must be held as soon as the law will permit. He said: "What is the need of spending money and holding elections when we know that the money asked for in this bond issue is needed and must be voted sooner or later.

BENTLEY-BUILT HOMES RELIEVE THE SITUATION

The man who builds a home in these times is a philanthropist.

When there is such a dearth of houses as now exists the man who builds, no matter what his motive, is doing more than filling a material need. When families cannot find places to call home the situation is a serious one, one that menaces the city and the nation and every effort made to correct this condition is to be commended.

There never was such a dearth of houses. Families who have been accustomed to well-built, comfortable homes suddenly find themselves searching frantically for a desirable place to live. This condition, largely due to the curtailment of building during the war can only be relieved by BUILDING NOW.

Families who have always rented houses are beginning to see that the cheapest and most satisfactory way to have a home is to build it. Others see in building a good investment. If you are contemplating building a home for your family or as an investment

NEGRO AND THE WAR

CHAPLAIN HAWES MAKES PLEA FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE AND EDUCATION FOR HIS RACE

Sunday evening Rev. O. P. Rider exchanged pulpits with Chaplain Hawes, pastor of the Colored Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles. His subject was "The American Negro and the War." He said many witty things, but also some very serious ones. Among other things he spoke of the illiteracy among negroes and of how many soldiers there were at the army camps who could not read or write and could not sign their names on the pay-roll. They were so ignorant, many of them, that "Uncle Sam" they supposed was a real personage. Chaplain Hawes was at Camp Dodge where many negro troops were stationed and referred to one case where three negroes were hung for a crime. He declared the reason they did those things was found in their ignorance. He himself was born in the woods of Georgia and lived in a two-room cabin with his parents and eight children. He said they were a little better off than their neighbors because they had a bit of land although nothing could be raised on it, and they had a horse in addition to a mule. He declared he was not asking for social equality for the negro. Social equality was not to be had anywhere, he said, not even among the whites. What he asked for was social justice and the same opportunities for education and advancement that the whites have. He was educated in the Presbyterian schools under the Freedman's Bureau. Because this is Home Mission Month the Sunday evening talks at the Tropico Presbyterian Church for a few Sundays to come will be along this line.

The city of Fullerton is sued for $100,300 by a man and his wife, she having fallen through an unprotected hole in a sidewalk there. The $300 is to heal her bodily feelings, and the $100,000 to heal her mental feelings. Which shows the vast superiority of mind over matter.

We hope the Los Angeles man who recently paid $21 for a sack of sugar, expecting to hold it for a still higher price, will have nothing to hold but the sack.

MERLE

He went to war—we gave him gladly
For his country's need;
He served, and served most bravely
And helped to bruise the Serpent's seed.
With him our hearts went out in love
With longing, yearning, searching prayer
That of the dear ones there to fall
That he might not stay "Over there."

We begged for just a glimpse of his dear face
The loving glance of his blue eye
Ah! If we could have but this
Gladly we'd lay us down and die.
He came—the joy of that glad meeting!
The sweetness of our lad, our own once more,
Love had its way in glad reunion
For joy had opened wide its door.

The days of love and heart communion
Of pride in this new-made boyman
Of telling o'er the days of absence
The sweetness of it! to tell it if I can.
The noble manliness of our laddie
Steady of hand and purpose true
White souled, of character "Sterling"
Pure eyes as blue as Heaven's blue.

But came a day our aviator laddie
Silently and swiftly made a wondrous flight
On pinions of the soul he left us
Flew to the land of Glory and of Light.
No longer he, of earth's aviation
With angels bright he makes his flight
Through summer skies of peace eternal
With Jesus in the land where is no night.

* * * * * * * * *

Ah! Lad, we'll meet you in the morning
For Oh! Our souls do long to fly
Away from earth and sorrow here
To that home beyond the skies.
Soon will be the Heavenly re-union
Soon all earth will know its fate
Merle, we'll meet you in the morning
"Just inside the Eastern Gate."

With Glendale's love for Dr. and Mrs. Eckles.

GERMANY VIEWS PEACE AS MOCKERY

By CARL D. GROAT
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, November 11.

One year of peace!

A bitter mockery, says Germany today on the anniversary of the great war's end.

It has been a year of aught but peace for her.

And, she looks out into the uncertain vista of the future with misgiving. She fears that it is the old cry of peace! peace! when there is no peace. She shrinks before the realities. For they spoil for her, perhaps, a further plunge into the chasm of moral, physical, economic disintegration which has marked the Teuton course.

Conclusion of one year of peace found the nation today uncomfortably close to national bankruptcy. It found her with a laboring class, unchained from the grind of the past, now unwilling to work—and in many cases unable for want of the raw materials. It found her with a government which despite good intentions and hard efforts has been unable to progress materially. And, too, it found her with internal strife, with political haulings and pullings, with strivings after monarchy and with strivings after proletarian dictatorship, in short, with a confusion and a moral breakdown which threatens before the winter dies to flame out in new civil upheavals with possible bloodshed or with further industrial stagnation.

The pendulum here has swung from the redism of last November's revolution to more moderation, it is true. And, there have been signs that the ultra-conservatism of the Pan-Germans would sweep back into power. The air is filled with rumors of putsches.

One side says, "The monarchists will overthrow the government, and put a Hindenburg or even a Hohenzollern in power." The other says, "The Spartacists plan trouble. They will bathe the land in blood again to establish their rule of the proletariat."

And both sides speak with some degree of truth. For certain it is that the extreme right and the extreme left are bent on establishing a new order of things, while the present Ebert-Bauer-Mueller government, formed of majority socialists, centrists and democrats, banks on Noske and his iron guards to keep Germany in order.

The two lone members of the California legislature who voted against ratification of the woman suffrage amendment at the special session of the legislature last Saturday, gave just the touch to the proceedings that was needed to give the impression that the members were thinking about what they were doing.

Hemet got on the map again last week when Jack Pickford, working in movie scene there, telephoned to his sister Mary in New York. Just like a movie actor—to think of something he wanted to say to his sister after she got four thousand miles away.
